 true dentistry

-Joseph G. Willardson, D.D.S.

"Your smile is your silent voice. It says everything about you."

— Joseph G. Willardson, D.D.S.

Dr. Joseph G. Willardson graduated from Cornell University School of Dentistry. He continued his education, doing residency and became a full-time graduate at the progressive Las Vegas Institute and Advanced International. His comprehensive training in advanced neuromuscular dentistry makes him part of an elite group of dentists. Over 90% of his oral dentistry is the latest forms have had the greatest training.

As a result of Dr. Willardson's training and continuing results, he has been named to be the featured dentist on PBS' "The Wellness Way". Dr. Willardson has also been chosen as the official dentist of the Miss Nevada USA pageant. His knowledge and experience has allowed him to teach other dentists in the field of dentistry. He will be authoring articles for self-regarded dental publications. He has been featured in and on the cover of the nation's leading dental publication "Dental Economics" and in popular magazines such as Cosmopolitan, Harper's Bazaar, Teen & Country, Marie Claire, Redbook, Vogue, Teen, Negative, Southern Dentistry, Nevada Women, 4 events and several others.

His natural talent and ability to create beautiful smiles have made him highly sought after regularly by professional athletes, television hosts, comedians, models and beauty pageant winners.
